

THE CHINESE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSLATION

2017-18

COURSE OUTLINE

COURSE CODE: TRAN1120B
ENGLISH TITLE: Basic Skills of Translation
CHINESE TITLE: 翻譯基本技巧
NUMBER OF UNITS: 3
DESCRIPTION: This course introduces the fundamental techniques of Chinese-English/English-Chinese translation. Emphasis is placed on practical skills, and exercises are in the form of group projects as well as individual assignments. Common errors are analysed and corrections explained.

COURSE OVERVIEW

This course focuses on the acquisition of fundamental techniques of Chinese-English and English-Chinese translation. Emphasis is placed on practical skills and application of basic translation principles on various text-types, preparing students for more advanced and specialized translation courses in future. Common errors in translation will be analyzed, based on real-life examples, and students will be encouraged to explain in their own words the methods they have chosen and the principles violated, so that they can produce better translations in future.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Expected learning outcomes Through the course of their studies, students learn to: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. appreciate and apply the basic practical skills and principles of translation (K/S);2. analyze critically and express communicatively the strengths and weaknesses of different source texts and target texts, including their own translations (K/S/V),3. heighten their sensitivity to language use and cultural reference (K/V);4. increase their awareness of the differences between the reference network of the source text readers and the target text readers (K/V);5. develop appropriate translation strategies for different text-types for different purposes (K/S);6. utilize various reference tools for translation and background research (K/S); and7. cultivate an appropriate mindset for more advanced and specialized translation (K/S/V). K=Knowledge Outcomes; S=Skills Outcomes; V=Values and Attitude Outcomes.

Implication for learning activities

The course is essentially knowledge-based and skill-based. Lectures and interactive tutorials will be the dominant activities. Students learn to apply the appropriate writing and translation skills in individual translation assignments. There will also be a group project that requires students to critically analyze translated texts taken from real-life examples with the integrated knowledge and skills acquired.

Lecturers and interactive tutorials will be the dominant activities:

- lectures: ~50% of budgeted class time.
- interactive tutorials: ~25% budgeted class time.
- project and discussion with an emphasis on group work to develop analytical team-work and communication skills: ~25% budgeted class time.

Implication for assessment

Continuous assessment will be carried out, without a final examination. The range of assessments includes class participation, individual and group translation assignments, group project and presentation, and a translation test.

COURSE ANNOUNCEMENTS

Course announcements and materials will be posted on CU eLearning System / distributed in class

Policy on Absenteeism

In respect of individual courses, a student who, without permission to take leave, has been absent for a continuous period exceeding 4 weeks shall, subject to the Department Board's approval, be given Grade F for the course(s) concerned.

Policy on Penalties for Late Submission of Written Work

Late submission of written work 1-7 days: Minus ONE Sub-grade.

Late submission of written work beyond 7 days: The work will not be graded and Grade F be given.

ACADEMIC HONESTY AND PLAGIARISM

Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations.

Details may be found at <http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/>.

With each assignment, students will be required to submit a signed declaration that they are aware of these policies, regulations, guidelines and procedures. In the case of group projects, all students of the same group should be asked to sign the declaration, each of whom is responsible should there be any plagiarized contents in the group project, irrespective of whether he/she has signed the declaration and whether he/she has contributed directly or indirectly to the plagiarized contents.

For assignments in the form of a computer-generated document that is principally text-based and submitted via VeriGuide, the statement, in the form of a receipt, will be issued by the system upon students' uploading of the soft copy of the assignment. Assignments without the properly signed declaration will not be graded by teachers. Only the final version of the assignment should be submitted via VeriGuide.

The submission of a piece of work, or a part of a piece of work, for more than one purpose (e.g. to satisfy the requirements in two different courses) without declaration to this effect shall be regarded as having committed undeclared multiple submission. It is common and acceptable to reuse a turn of phrase or a sentence or two from one's own work; but wholesale reuse is problematic. In any case, agreement from the course teacher(s) concerned should be obtained prior to the submission of the piece of work.
