DESCRIPTION
This course acquaints students with the general principles of translation. Theory is introduced in so far as it provides an intellectual framework and conceptual background to the practice of translation between Chinese and English.

COURSE OVERVIEW
This is an elementary translation course to introduce the general issues about the nature and process of translation. Emphasis is placed on the nature of translation as a communicative act and relevant topics concerning English and Chinese as the working languages. Basic theories and concepts of translation studies will be discussed and examples of different text types are used to illustrate the dynamics in translation practices.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will:

- be equipped with a basic framework of the elementary knowledge on translation (K);
- be aware of the basic problems encountered in English <-> Chinese translation (KS);
- be alerted to various factors affecting the translators’ decisions and strategies (KS);
- acquire the basic techniques for analysing and evaluating translated texts (KSV);
- be able to reflect on the nature of translation as a communicative act (KV).

Implication for learning activities
The course is made up of interactive lectures and tutorial workshops. Students are introduced to the basic concepts and theories in translation studies in the interactive lectures, where they are provided with translation examples and different text types to enhance their understanding of relevant ideas, and are invited to respond to various issues under discussion. As for the tutorial workshops, students are expected to work in small groups to produce appropriate translations through active discussion and collaboration, and be able to account for their translation strategies and decisions.
Special topics are used to facilitate a focused study of specific texts or cases so as to stimulate interest in the discipline.

Implication for assessment

Students are assessed on their translation and analytical skills (mainly through individual assignments and tutorial workshops), and learning initiative and communication skills (through their participation in class and tutorial discussions). Through continuous assessment, students are given the opportunity to improve overtime. There is a final translation test which assesses students’ ability to produce satisfactory translations within a realistic time frame.

LIST OF TOPICS

- Concepts in Translation Studies such as ‘equivalence’, ‘literal translation’ and ‘free translation’, ‘meaning’, and “discourse”;
- The linguistic aspects of translation;
- The cultural aspects of translation;
- The relationship between text type and translation skills;
- General translation strategies

COURSE ANNOUNCEMENTS

Course announcements and materials will be posted on CU eLearning System and/or distributed in class.

Policy on Absenteeism
In respect of individual courses, a student who, without permission to take leave, has been absent for a continuous period exceeding 4 weeks shall, subject to the Department Board’s approval, be given Grade F for the course(s) concerned.

Policy on Penalties for Late Submission of Written Work
Late submission of written work 1-7 days: Minus ONE Sub-grade.
Late submission of written work beyond 7 days: The work will not be graded and Grade F be given.

ACADEMIC HONESTY AND PLAGIARISM

Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations. Details may be found at http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/.

With each assignment, students will be required to submit a signed declaration that they are aware of these policies, regulations, guidelines and procedures. In the case of group projects, all students of the same group should be asked to sign the declaration, each of whom is responsible should there be any plagiarized contents in the group project, irrespective of whether he/she has signed the declaration and whether he/she has contributed directly or indirectly to the plagiarized contents.

For assignments in the form of a computer-generated document that is principally text-based and submitted via VeriGuide, the statement, in the form of a receipt, will be issued by the system upon students' uploading of the soft copy of the assignment. Assignments without the properly signed declaration will not be graded by teachers. Only the final version of the assignment should be submitted via VeriGuide.

The submission of a piece of work, or a part of a piece of work, for more than one purpose (e.g. to satisfy the requirements in two different courses) without declaration to this effect shall be regarded as having committed undeclared multiple submission. It is common and acceptable to reuse a turn of phrase or a sentence or two from one’s own work; but wholesale reuse is problematic. In any case, agreement from the course teacher(s) concerned should be obtained prior to the submission of the piece of work.
